

The European Biodiesel Board (EBB) is a non-profit organization established in January 1997. EBB promotes the use of biodiesel in the European Union, at the same time, grouping the major EU biodiesel producers. EBB aims at representing its members to the European Institutions, promoting scientific, economic and technologic activities, collecting and analysing information, studying issues related to the biodiesel industry and suggesting solutions.

EBB is recruiting for recent graduates for the following position:

Internship as Junior Assistant Manager

Requirements:

- Academic degree in European law, economics, political sciences, administration, management
- Excellent English proficiency
- Interest in bio-energy and in European environmental policies
- Excellent organizational and communication skills
- The knowledge of another European language will be considered a plus.

Job description:

- Media reporting
- Legislative reporting
- General research on issues of interest for the association
- Support to the project managers and the General Secretary
- Support for the management of European projects
- Organization of events and conferences.

Terms and conditions:

Duration: 6-8 months minimum with possibility of extension

Reimbursement: no paid internship - partial expenses coverage

Beginning of employment: April/May

English is the working language, fluency in French is a plus

To apply:

Please send CV (no Europass format) with photo and a cover letter to:

Raffaello Garofalo – General Secretary

jobs@ebb-eu.org

Please insert in the subject of your email the reference: Internship - Junior Manager Assistant –2017

Deadline: March 31st

Applications should reach EBB as soon as possible and no later than March 31st, 2017 Preference will be given to CVs that reaches EBB in advance of the deadline.